PRODUCTS

I am interested in functional and innovative products, and when they incorporate communication, in any form, they are much more interesting. I don't work with my hands and therefore I don't have a craftsmanship approach to objects, some are purely designed by instruction. Shape and material become secondary elements, with the concept behind the use and its attitude being of primary concern.

This page, above:
WC Gardener; produced by B-Sign,
 Barcelona, 2006
A toilet brush with an alternative identity.

EgoMirror; produced by B-Sign,
 Barcelona, 2006
A series of mirrors in plastic with words that try to motivate your ego

This page, left:
Plant-me Pet; produced by Cha-Cha, 2003
This is a piece that won the Frankfurt Design Plus award a couple of years ago. It makes you decide between function and emotion; you play with it or plant it.

News rug; produced by Nani
 Marquina, 2006
*News is my first rug for Nani Marquina.
 It tried to change domestic furniture into a more graphic iconography.*
